

Sunshine Coast Photography Club Set Subject Definitions 2023

Definitions for Club competitions in 2023

High Key High key photography is a style of photography that uses unusually bright lighting to reduce or completely blow out dark shadows in the image. High key shots usually lack dark tones, and the high key look is generally thought of as positive and upbeat March 8 March 8 Mater in Motion Motion photography is about showing movement. Adding a slight blur of the action to your shot helps tell a story. This storytelling element makes the images a little less static and unexpected. Another reason why showing movement stands out is because it sets the mood April 12 Black and White Abstracts The world is your studio for this contest, and with colour stripped away you're looking for patterns, interactions, tonal range, and contrast, to name a few of the things that go into a compelling black and white abstract. With a contest theme this broad, it's an invitation to head out into the world, or your kitchen, and start looking through your camera. May 10 Table Top Still Life When the sun goes down, street photography becomes a different beast from its daytime equivalent. The lights come on, the switch from daytime work to night-time fun happens, and the technical and social skills required to take great photographs also subtly change. July 12 Architectural Shadows Architectural Shadows The interplay of light and form is one of the many considerations in the mind of a good architect when they are designing. In this contest were less focused on the architecture, and more on the shadows that casts shadows that might be falling on the building itself, or the area around it When it's possible to return to the same building at different times of day, and in different lighting conditions, one can explore the many ways in which that building's shadows will interact with it surroundings. Aug 9 In Camera Motion (ICM) Sep 13 Doors or Windows, or doors and windows, or parts of doors, or parts of windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or doors or a window or windows. Doors or windows, o	DATE	SUBJECT	DEFINITION lighting to reduce or completely blow out dark shadows in the image. High key shots usually lack dark tones, and the high key look is generally thought of as positive and upbeat March 8 Water in Motion photography is about showing movement. Adding a slight blur of the action to your shot helps tell a story. This storytelling element makes the images a little less static and unexpected. Another reason why showing movement stands out is because it sets the mood April 12 Black and White Abstracts the world is your studio for this contest, and with colour stripped away you're looking for patterns, interactions, tonal range, and contrast, to name a few of the things that go into a compelling black and white abstract. With a contest theme this broad, it's an invitation to head out into the world, or your kitchen, and start looking through your camera. May 10 Table Top Still Life Men the sun goes down, street photography becomes a different beast from its daytime equivalent. The lights come on, the switch from daytime work to night-time fun happens, and the technical and social skills required to take great photographs also subtily change. July 12 Architectural Shadows Architectural Shadows The interplay of light and form is one of the many considerations in the mind of a good architect when they are designing. In this contest we're less focused on the architecture, and more on the shadows that it casts shadows that might be falling on the building itself, or the area around it. When it's possible to return to the same building at different times of day, and in different lighting conditions, one can explore the many ways in which that building's shadows will interact with its surroundings. Aug 9 In Camera Motion (ICM) Aug I CM can help you create a different style of image than you normally create. It will challenge you to stretch your imagination. Another benefit of using ICM is that it allows you to create abstract images you may not otherwise see when you're out shooting. Different techniques allow you to	January	No Competition	Entries for February due on 11 th January
April 12 April 12 Black and White Abstracts The world is your studio for this contest, and with colour stripped away you're looking for patterns, interactions, tonal range, and contrast, to name a few of the things that go into a compelling black and white abstract. With a contest theme this broad, it's an invitation to head out into the world, or your kitchen, and start looking through your camera. May 10 Table Top Still Life A man-made arrangement of objects that are compatible with each other. When the sun goes down, street photography becomes a different beast from its daytime equivalent. The lights come on, the switch from daytime work to night-time fun happens, and the technical and social skills required to take great photographs also subtly change. The interplay of light and form is one of the many considerations in the mind of a good architect when they are designing. In this contest we're less shodows that might be falling on the building itself, or the area around it. When it's possible to return to the same building at different times of day, and in different lighting conditions, one can explore the many ways in which that building's shadows will interact with its surroundings. Aug 9 In Camera Motion (ICM) Sep 13 Doors or Windows Using ICM can help you create a different style of image than you normally create. It will challenge you to stretch your imagination. Another benefit of using out your inner artist. How to.LINK Doors or windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or doors or a window or windows. Oct 11 Places of Worship Light Painting If you've not tried light painting, then you haven't explored one of the most intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of linght-emitting opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashlight. But if you want to reality with. And here's a really useful Guide to Light Painting	Feb 8	High Key	lighting to reduce or completely blow out dark shadows in the image. High key shots usually lack dark tones, and the high key look is generally thought
White Abstracts looking for patterns, interactions, tonal range, and contrast, to name a few of the things that go into a compelling black and white abstract. With a contest theme this broad, it's an invitation to head out into the world, or your kitchen, and start looking through your camera. A man-made arrangement of objects that are compatible with each other. When the sun goes down, street photography becomes a different beast from its daytime equivalent. The lights come on, the switch from daytime work to night-time fun happens, and the technical and social skills required to take great photographs also subtly change. The interplay of light and form is one of the many considerations in the mind of a good architect when they are designing. In this contest we're less focused on the architecture, and more on the shadows that it casts shadows that might be falling on the building itself, or the area around it. When it's possible to return to the same building at different times of day, and in different lighting conditions, one can explore the many ways in which that building's shadows will interact with its surroundings. Aug 9 In Camera Motion (ICM) Using ICM can help you create a different style of image than you normally create. It will challenge you to stretch your imagination. Another benefit of using ICM is that it allows you to create abstract images you may not otherwise see when you're out shooting. Different techniques allow you to bring out your inner artist. How to:LINK Sep 13 Doors or Windows, or doors and windows, or parts of doors, or parts of windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or doors or a window or windows. Oct 11 Places of Worship A place that is set aside where people gather to worship/celebrate a religious view. Can include buildings or sites, ancient or modern, interior or exterior. If you've not tried light painting, then you haven't explored one of the most intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create pa	March 8		action to your shot helps tell a story. This storytelling element makes the images a little less static and unexpected. Another reason why showing
Life A man-made arrangement of objects that are compatible with each other. June 14 Street Photography at Night When the sun goes down, street photography becomes a different beast from its daytime equivalent. The lights come on, the switch from daytime work to night-time fun happens, and the technical and social skills required to take great photographs also subtly change. The interplay of light and form is one of the many considerations in the mind of a good architect when they are designing. In this contest we're less focused on the architecture, and more on the shadows that it casts shadows that might be falling on the building itself, or the area around it. When it's possible to return to the same building at different times of day, and in different lighting conditions, one can explore the many ways in which that building's shadows will interact with its surroundings. Aug 9 In Camera Motion (ICM) Using ICM can help you create a different style of image than you normally create. It will challenge you to stretch your imagination. Another benefit of using ICM is that it allows you to create abstract images you may not otherwise see when you're out shooting. Different techniques allow you to bring out your inner artist. How to:LINK Sep 13 Doors or Windows Doors or windows, or doors and windows, or parts of doors, or parts of windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or doors or a window or windows. Oct 11 Places of Worship A place that is set aside where people gather to worship/celebrate a religious view. Can include buildings or sites, ancient or modern, interior or exterior. If you've not tried light painting, then you haven't explored one of the most intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of image-making opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashight. But if you want to really wow then there are online shops selling all ma	April 12	White	looking for patterns, interactions, tonal range, and contrast, to name a few of the things that go into a compelling black and white abstract. With a contest theme this broad, it's an invitation to head out into the world, or your kitchen,
Photography at Night from its daytime equivalent. The lights come on, the switch from daytime work to night-time fun happens, and the technical and social skills required to take great photographs also subtly change. The interplay of light and form is one of the many considerations in the mind of a good architect when they are designing. In this contest we're less focussed on the architecture, and more on the shadows that it casts shadows that might be falling on the building itself, or the area around it. When it's possible to return to the same building itself, or the area around it. When it's possible to return to the same building at different times of day, and in different lighting conditions, one can explore the many ways in which that building's shadows will interact with its surroundings. Aug 9 In Camera Motion (ICM) Using ICM can help you create a different style of image than you normally create. It will challenge you to stretch your imagination. Another benefit of using ICM is that it allows you to create abstract images you may not otherwise see when you're out shooting. Different techniques allow you to bring out your inner artist. How to:LINK Sep 13 Doors or Windows Doors or windows, or doors and windows, or parts of doors, or parts of windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or doors or a window or windows. A place that is set aside where people gather to worship/celebrate a religious view. Can include buildings or sites, ancient or modern, interior or exterior. Nov 1 Light Painting If you've not tried light painting, then you haven't explored one of the most intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of image-making opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashlight. But if you want to really wow then there are online shops selling all manner of kit to get creative with. And here's a really useful Guide to Light Painting	May 10		A man-made arrangement of objects that are compatible with each other.
Shadows of a good architect when they are designing. In this contest we're less focussed on the architecture, and more on the shadows that it casts-shadows that might be falling on the building itself, or the area around it. When it's possible to return to the same building at different times of day, and in different lighting conditions, one can explore the many ways in which that building's shadows will interact with its surroundings. Aug 9 In Camera Motion (ICM) Sep 13 Using ICM can help you create a different style of image than you normally create. It will challenge you to stretch your imagination. Another benefit of using ICM is that it allows you to create abstract images you may not otherwise see when you're out shooting. Different techniques allow you to bring out your inner artist. How to:LINK Sep 13 Doors or Windows, or doors and windows, or parts of doors, or parts of windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or doors or a window or windows. Oct 11 Places of Worship A place that is set aside where people gather to worship/celebrate a religious view. Can include buildings or sites, ancient or modern, interior or exterior. Nov 1 Light Painting If you've not tried light painting, then you haven't explored one of the most intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of image-making opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashlight. But if you want to really wow then there are online shops selling all manner of kit to get creative with. And here's a really useful Guide to Light Painting	June 14	Photography	from its daytime equivalent. The lights come on, the switch from daytime work to night-time fun happens, and the technical and social skills required to
Motion (ICM) create. It will challenge you to stretch your imagination. Another benefit of using ICM is that it allows you to create abstract images you may not otherwise see when you're out shooting. Different techniques allow you to bring out your inner artist. How to:LINK Sep 13 Doors or Doors or windows, or doors and windows, or parts of doors, or parts of windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or doors or a window or windows. Oct 11 Places of Worship A place that is set aside where people gather to worship/celebrate a religious view. Can include buildings or sites, ancient or modern, interior or exterior. Nov 1 Light Painting If you've not tried light painting, then you haven't explored one of the most intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of image-making opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashlight. But if you want to really wow then there are online shops selling all manner of kit to get creative with. And here's a really useful Guide to Light Painting	July 12		of a good architect when they are designing. In this contest we're less focussed on the architecture, and more on the shadows that it casts shadows that might be falling on the building itself, or the area around it. When it's possible to return to the same building at different times of day, and in different lighting conditions, one can explore the many ways in which that
Windows windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or doors or a window or windows. Oct 11 Places of Worship A place that is set aside where people gather to worship/celebrate a religious view. Can include buildings or sites, ancient or modern, interior or exterior. Nov 1 Light Painting If you've not tried light painting, then you haven't explored one of the most intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of image-making opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashlight. But if you want to really wow then there are online shops selling all manner of kit to get creative with. And here's a really useful Guide to Light Painting	Aug 9		create. It will challenge you to stretch your imagination. Another benefit of using ICM is that it allows you to create abstract images you may not otherwise see when you're out shooting. Different techniques allow you to Worship A place that is set aside where people gather to worship/celebrate a religious view. Can include buildings or sites, ancient or modern, interior or exterior. Light Painting If you've not tried light painting, then you haven't explored one of the most intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of image-making opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashlight. But if you want to really wow then there are online shops selling all manner of kit to get creative with. And here's a really useful Guide to Light Painting	Sep 13		windows, just so long as we know that the image was taken of a door or intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of image-making opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashlight. But if you want to really wow then there are online shops selling all manner of kit to get creative with. And here's a really useful Guide to Light Painting	Oct 11
December Awards Entries for Annual Competitions and Awards Close November 3.	Nov 1	Light Painting	intriguing sub-genres of photography. Using an array of light-emitting devices to create patterns on the sensor or film, a whole world of image-making opportunity opens. You can start out with nothing more complicated than a simple torch/flashlight. But if you want to really wow then there are online shops selling all manner of kit to get creative with. And here's a really
	December	Awards	Entries for Annual Competitions and Awards Close November 3.